

Charity Event 2016

David & Alison Dorricott, Directors

A very warm welcome to the AFD Group's 2016 Charity Evening, thank you so much for making the effort to join us this evening here at Ramsey Golf Club.

Our business has a core objective of "generating profits, and using them creatively in the relief of suffering, the improvement of society and furtherance of the Christian gospel". This is vitally important to us, and it's why we are gathered this evening to celebrate the work of over 50 charities who dedicate themselves in different ways to making life better for others.

The charities we donate to are selected by the people who work at AFD – and in response to some specific requests for help.

We ask our staff to help nominate charities who mean something to them, since our donations are made possible only through the hard work and excellence of the AFD Staff Team. This team – who produce, administer and support our world-class Address Management Software – make a real difference to thousands of companies and organisations. Our products help them deliver their products and services efficiently, and help cut out waste everywhere that addresses are entered and used.

Previous guests of our charity evenings and also our own staff often give feedback to us about how challenging and inspirational they find the presentations, and how valuable the networking opportunities are to learn about the work of other charities, on the island, in the UK and further afield. We hope you too will find this evening inspirational, educational and enjoyable as we hear about the work of a selected few of our charities.

Please take the opportunity to talk to members of the AFD team, and learn a little about the company – and what motivates them about the charities we are supporting. It is also an ideal opportunity to learn more about many of the nominated charities from the passionate activists who have come along this evening.

We hope this brochure (spare copies available) will give you an overview of the work of all the charities we are supporting this year, including their contact details if you wish to know more.
